MINUTES
OF THE
TWENTY-FIRST ANNUAL MEETING.

---

FIRST SESSION.

WILMINGTON, N. C., July 18, 1900.

The Association met in Pythian Hall at 11 o'clock a. m., and in the absence of the President, was called to order by Vice-President Jordan.

The President called upon Rev. Voigt, of the Lutheran Church to invoke the Divine blessings upon the Association and its deliberations.

THE PRESIDENT: I will ask Mr. Empie of this city in behalf of the city authorities and druggists to bid you welcome.

MR. EMPIE:

Gentlemen of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association :

I am well aware that this is neither the time nor the place for a lengthy or elaborate speech, and I shall try to be as David Harum said his married life was, "Short and to the point." I would, also, exhaust your patience were I to attempt to waste your valuable time in flattering phrase or stilted eulogy, and, I fear, you would be like the man who lost his wife and was so distressed that he determined to walk behind the hearse to the cemetery. His friends told him it would never do; that it was not customary; that it would provoke the smile of the rabble; he persisted in his determination, but was, after much persuasion, gotten into a carriage, when he turned to his friends and said, "I yield to your earnest entreaties, but you have destroyed half the pleasure of the occasion."

The Chief Executive of this city is away making speeches to "save the country," and I have been substituted to extend the welcome which he would have gladly done and which he could so gracefully do, were he here. As his substitute I can only say what is current truth in North Carolina, that Wilmington ever extends the hand of welcome to the stranger, and especially does she feel honored when she finds within her gates such a representative and meritorious organization as the Pharmaceutical Association. She realizes the importance of this meeting and the work that devolves upon you and, particularly the objects of this association, for it means the establishment in North Carolina of a corps of pharmacists, who, before they are allowed to serve the public must be qualified, by rigid examination, to exercise the duties and offices of their vocation. This grand safeguard is a matter of interest to all for no one is exempt from sickness and sooner or later, all have to place our health or lives in your hands and take our medicine like men.

If the old adage, "Throw medicine to the dogs," were literally followed, "Othello's occupation would be gone," but experience has proved that your drugs and medicines have more potent influences for restoring health than all the arts of the "healers," and all the theories of the "Faith Curists" and the "Christian Scientists" combined. Your medicines cannot restore the dead, but they are as powerful for that purpose as any of the arts of Christian Scientists on a last year's corpse

After your labors shall have been completed it is the purpose of the Wilmington Drug Association to show you some of our attractions first, by a sail down the river, where you will pass the historical "Dram Tree," and can whisper to your friend the well known saying of the Governors of the Carolinas; then by the rice fields of the lower Cape Fear, waving their rice harvest; by Carolina Beach Pier, where a fine summer resort opens up all its pleasures; by the colonial residences at Orton and Kendall plantations; by St. Philips Church, one of the oldest in this country; by Sugar Loaf with its interesting Indian traditions; by the rocks where the ocean has been walled out by a dam; by Fort Fisher where the greatest bombardment of modern times took place; then on to Southport, one of the pleasantest and breeziest places on the Atlantic coast. After your return from there you will visit Wrightsville Beach, and will find a beach so enticing and an invitation so broad that you must accept its hospitality and cool yourselves in its waters. And you will find in its invigorating surf more roses will come to your cheeks than could be placed there by all the "Pink Pills for Pale People" you have ever sold.

Experience has taught us that in entertaining strangers we have entertained angels unawares, so we welcome you to our homes, our hearts and our hospitality, and in the absence of the Mayor, but with his permission, I extend to you a royal and hearty welcome and the freedom of the city.

THE PRESIDENT: I will ask Mr. A. J. Cook to respond to the very kind address we have just heard.

MR. COOK:

We thank Mr. Empie for his words of kindly welcome. The more especially as they are only in keeping with the hospitable greeting that has been accorded to us by the people of Wilmington. We expected much of you, and have in no way been disappointed. We know something of your history, how on your soil was struck one of the first blows for American freedom; how you bore your part in the fierce conflict between the States, and how very lately you have brought order out of chaos, and white robed peace has come from under the very shadow of the god of war. We love you, my friends, for the way you treat your friends, and have infinite respect for you for the way you dispose of your enemies. It is needless for me to dwell upon the gentle courtesy of this people, whose reputation for open hospitality is known wherever the name of your city is spoken, and from my own experience I assert that whoever has had the good fortune to spend even a few days among you, is always loath to leave and is anxious to return.

The Secretary called the roll, there being a quorum present, the meeting was declared ready for business.

THE PRESIDENT. Next in order is the reading of the minutes of the last meeting.

On motion the reading of the minutes was dispensed with, as copies of the printed proceedings had been distributed through the mail.

[The President being absent there was no report from him.]

THE PRESIDENT. We will now have the report from the Treasurer.

Respectfully Submitted,

A. J. COOK,
Treasurer.

July 18, 1900.

Mr. Niestlie moved that Treasurer's Report be referred to Auditing Committee.

THE PRESIDENT. Next in order is the Report of the Board of Pharmacy.

REPORT OF MR. SIMPSON AS SECRETARY TO BOARD OF PHARMACY.

RALEIGH, N. C., July 2, 1900.

To His Excellency, Daniel G. Russell, Governor:

SIR:—I have the honor to submit to your Excellency and the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association, my Nineteenth Annual Report of the North Carolina Board of Pharmacy for the year ending June 30, 1900.

The Forty-eighth Meeting of the Board was held in the city of Durham, on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 16 and 17, 1899, present, Messrs. Zoeller, Wearn, Fetzner and Simpson. The newly appointed member, Mr. F. W. Hancock, appeared and was welcomed by the members present.

At this meeting, twenty-three candidates appeared for examination of whom fourteen were found qualified and granted license as follows, viz:

|                                |                       |
|--------------------------------|-----------------------|
| CHARLES FREDERICK GREEN . .    | Wilmington, N. C.     |
| THOMAS WILLIAM KENDRICK . .    | Shelby, N. C.         |
| THOMAS E. LANDQUIST . . . .    | Salem, N. C.          |
| FRANCIS GILLAM JACOBS . . . .  | Windsor, N. C.        |
| WILLIAM BURWELL HARRISON . .   | Weldon, N. C.         |
| JOHN CARL QUICKEL, JR, . . . . | Lincolnton, N. C.     |
| ALBERT STEWART JOHNSTON . . .  | Raleigh, N. C.        |
| JOHN C. BRANTLEY . . . . .     | Marshville, N. C.     |
| DAVID CLARENCE SWINDELL . . .  | Rocky Mount, N. C.    |
| C. W. ELLINGTON . . . . .      | Chapel Hill, N. C.    |
| ARNOLD WINKELNID THORMANN . .  | Ashville, N. C.       |
| CHARLES DAYTON GRUVER . . . .  | Stroudsburg, Pa.      |
| JOHNATHAN FLEMING BROOKS . . . | Hendersonville, N. C. |
| CHAS. H. SMITH . . . . .       | Greensboro, N. C.     |

In the matter of prizes given by Professors Howell, Baskerville and Mangum, of the State University School of Pharmacy, the Board decided that the competition be had only at the annual meetings of the Board, and that the award be made only to those appearing for examination on these occasions.

The receipt of the meeting was one hundred dollars as follows: five dollars each for Messrs. Chas. F. Green, T. W. Kendrick, T. C. Landquist, F. G. Jacobs, W. B. Harrison, W. F. Moody, A. J. Thompson E. E. Missildine, A. S. Johnston, J. F. Brooks, C. H. Smith, Paul Stanley, John H. Love, J. C. Brantley, C. C. Gray, D. C. Swindell, C. W. Ellington, J. A. Suttle, A. W. Thormann and C. D. Gruver.

Prof. Howell of the University School of Pharmacy sent a communication to the Board asking that the graduates of that Department be put upon an equal footing with the graduates of the Maryland College of Pharmacy. After mature consideration the Board determined that it would not recognize the Diplomas of any other Colleges than those now recognized, viz: New York, Philadelphia and Maryland, and that after the close of the present year that it would cease to recognize the Diploma of any College, thereby placing them all upon the same footing and avoiding the giving of offense to any.

The Forty-ninth meeting of the Board was held in the city of Raleigh, Tuesday October 10, 1899. Present, Messrs. Zoeller, Fetzer, Hancock and Simpson.

At this meeting fourteen candidates appeared for examination, seven of whom were successful, as follows, viz:

|                               |                   |
|-------------------------------|-------------------|
| GEORGE Y. WATSON . . . . .    | Southport, N. C.  |
| WILLIAM MANN TUCKER . . . .   | Reidsville, N. C. |
| FRANCIS WALLACE FARRIES . . . | Goldsboro, N. C.  |
| SAMUEL MARVIN RIDDLE . . . .  | Raleigh, N. C.    |
| EDWIN HOLMES SMITH . . . . .  | Raleigh, N. C.    |
| HIRAM GRANTHAM . . . . .      | Smithfield, N. C. |
| JOHN H. HARRIS . . . . .      | Charlotte, N. C.  |

18      North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association.

The receipts of the meeting were sixty dollars, being five dollars each from the following: Ed. Smith, F. W. Farries, T. F. Jarratt, Geo. Nottingham, H. Grantham, A. J. Ashford, W. M. Tucker, B. H. Kendall, Thos. B. Allison, Geo. V. Watson, C. E. Hueston, S. M. Riddle.

The Board adjourned to meet at the call of the President, when in his opinion a sufficient number of applicants for license would warrant the calling of the Board together. Otherwise the Board would not meet until the State Association met in its Annual Session.

Following will be found an account of the receipts and disbursements of the Board for the fiscal year.

Wm. Simpson, Secretary and Treasurer, in account with the North Carolina Board of Pharmacy:

Mr. Cook moved that the Report of Board of Pharmacy be referred to Auditing Committee. Carried.

Auditing Committee was then appointed being, H. L. Fentress, H. R. Horne, B. W. Hunter.

Mr. Bobbitt moved that the Druggists and Physicians of Wilmington be asked to attend the meeting of the Association.

THE PRESIDENT. Next in order is the Report of the Secretary.

REPORT OF SECRETARY.

I have the honor to submit my first Annual Report as Secretary of your Association, and in doing so am glad to be able to say that the Association is enjoying her share of the prosperity that is now hovering over this nation.

A short time after our Convention last year, I solicited advertisements for our Proceedings, before placing the manuscript in the hands of the publishers and succeeded in selling space to the amount of $115.00.

There was considerable delay in issuing the Proceedings on account of not receiving certain reports which were to be incorporated in the Proceedings, so the same were not issued until late in the year, at which time copies were mailed to each member of the Association, the advertisers, officers of other Associations and Pharmaceutical Journals, etc.

Complimentary copies of the following journals have been received during the year, Western Druggist, Pharmaceutical Review, Rocky Mountain Druggist, Merck's Report, Meyer Bros. Druggist.

Announcements of the present meeting were issued thirty days ago and an extra postal card notice was sent out on July the 10th calling the attention of the members to the fact that Mr. Simon N. Jones, the President of the N. A. R. D. would attend our meeting and address the Convention on the workings of the National Association.

The expenses of the Secretary's Office for the past year have been as follows:

|                                                         |         |
|---------------------------------------------------------|---------|
| Express and Telegrams . . . . .                         | $ 1 46 |
| Two hundred Cards and printing same . . . . .           | 3.00    |
| Postage . . . . .                                       | 14 50   |
| Secretary's Salary . . . . .                            | 75.00   |
| Three hundred and fifty Copies of Proceedings . . . . . | 90 00   |
| Stationery and Printing . . . . .                       | 8.50    |
| Five hundred Announcements and Envelopes . . . . .      | 6.50    |
| Stenographer . . . . .                                  | 10.00   |

$ 208.96

Mr. Cook moved that the report be referred to Auditing Committee. Motion adopted.

THE PRESIDENT. Next in order is Miscellaneous Business.

Mr. Fentress moved that a Committee on Time and Place of Next Meeting be appointed. Carried.

Committee: Messrs. Fentress, Pilkington, Hicks.

Mr. Hicks discussed the Pharmaceutical Law being enforced, which was very strongly argued upon by Messrs. Wearn, Matthews, Harrison, Simpson and Fentress.

THE PRESIDENT. Any motion to make in regard to this?

THE PRESIDENT. Reading Communications.

Several Communications were read by the Secretary.

Mr. Horne moved that the communications be referred to Committee on Trade Interest. Carried.

THE PRESIDENT. Next in order, Reports of Committees.

Mr. Wearn moved to adjourn to meet again at 3 o'clock. Carried.

Mr. Munds said that they had made arrangements for the Association to take a trip down the river on the Wilmington, then to the beach and take supper at the hotel down there.

Adjournment.

SECOND SESSION.

WEDNESDAY, July 18, 1900.

The meeting was called to order by Vice-President Jordan at 3 o'clock.

The minutes of the morning session were read and approved.

THE PRESIDENT. Have we any report from the Committee on Papers and Queries?

THE SECRETARY. We have a paper, Mr. President, by Mr. Neistlie. As he is present I will ask him to read it.

The Venus Fly Trap.

(Dionaea Mucipula.)

WILMINGTON, N. C., July 17, 1900.

In my paper to the Association at your last meeting, I wrote about my investigations of this wonderful plant, and my paper was published in your proceedings of 1899. At this meeting I expect to go into details of this wonderful plant, and instead of one variety, I present to you to-day two, the white and red. These two specimens grow near together and many times side by side; then again only a few red specimens are found. This is the first time that the red variety has been classified. Many will try to contradict that this is true, but you have specimens before you to prove that my statement cannot be contradicted. (Kindly examine dish of plants and see the beautiful red color on inside of leaf, not noticed in the other dish of specimens before you also.) Both varieties are separate in color, but as to sensitiveness of the plants they are just alike. These specimens will show to the members of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association, and the botanists of our country, that we have two (2) varieties of the Venus Fly Trap, in New Hanover county, near Wilmington, N. C. The sensitive parts of these plants are in the three little hair-lines on the inside of each leaf. If a leaf or a straw or any inert matter drops on the inside of a leaf it causes the leaf to close up on it, but it does not close and compress the same, but it looks as if the leaf felt no movement of a living object and after twenty-four hours it opens up again. On the other hand, if it is a bug or insect of any kind that has life and movement, the leaf never opens up again until it has first of all compressed the life out of it, which takes from two to forty-eight hours, just as the size of leaf has the strength to crush together, the larger the specimen it certainly has greater power of compression, and therefore kills its victim sooner. It has no odor to overcome the bug or insect, but kills it outright by compression of the leaf together; then, when the insect is dead, it gives up a kind of fluid which surrounds the insect within the leaf, and after it has absorbed all the soft and digestable part of the insect, it re-absorbes the fluid back into the leaf, and after that has been done the leaf opens up again and gets rid of the dead particles that have not been digested or absorbed. Not having any power to get rid of what is left, it needs assistance to get rid of this dead matter. What the winds cannot blow away is carried away by a few spiders that hang around and near the plants; but the greatest help given to this plant to get rid of all this dead matter is our little busy ant. You will find it running up and down each leaf until it comes to the one containing this dead matter, and it is carried away to his home as food. I have watched these proceedings in the woods, in its native ground.

I show you some specimens of insects in the living plants that have been digested, and also some specimens I have dried and tried to keep, but that is hard to accomplish, as all leaves soon turn black when they are dried out. I show you a specimen that has caught a grasshopper which has been in the leaf three weeks undergoing digestion, and as it kept the leaf partly open and it could not properly close on its victim, you see it has begun to decay itself before it has done its work of digestion. This leaf will now die and become as a fertilizer to the plant. Another specimen you see has a large mosquito-hawk in the same and has closed upon it. (This I placed in it alive to show you the power of holding) This leaf has stronger compression power than the power possessed by the insect to try to escape. Nearly all insects try to escape when captured, but this seldom occurs

WILLIAM NIESTLIE.

MR. HORNE. I move that the thanks of the Association be given Mr. Niestlie for his interesting paper, and that it be referred to the Committee on Publication. Motion carried.

THE SECRETARY. Mr. President, in regard to this paper of Mr. Niestlie, I find that it is a very interesting communication, and these specimens are certainly handsome. They are about the first I have ever seen, outside of the lecture room. I would like to know more about them, as to their medical properties, active principle, etc. Can you tell us something, Mr. Niestlie?

MR. NIESTLIE. That is something that has remained hidden up to the present time. I have been working and laboring to find out their medical properties. I have found tannin in them; but the greatest thing was to find first the plant itself. When it is too hot, it withers and dies; too cold weather kills it; drought kills it. It is a characteristic of it that it must be in damp places to thrive; and, if it gets too much moisture, it dies from drowning. So the plant itself is a study, and has been a study for nine years with me. It has been a great deal of pleasure from season to season to watch the growth and development of the plant. I can find specimens which any other man would have trouble in finding, because they are small as a rule. These specimens before us are all selected specimens. These are to show the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association that there are two varieties, which statement, being something new in the botanical world, will be contradicted. No work on botany up to date has any such classification as to this plant. You can see that, to bring up such a matter as this, is a right delicate question, because I am not a botanist.

THE SECRETARY. Mr. Niestlie, in what part of the plant did you find the tannin?

MR. NIESTLIE. In all parts of it.

Mr. Niestlie then invited the members to come forward and inspect the plants, while he explained the characteristics of them, which he did in a very interesting and instructive manner.

THE PRESIDENT. We will hear from the Committee on Trade Interests, Mr. H. T. Hicks, Chairman.

MR. HICKS. I have no written report. The only thing that has come under my observation or my care since our last meeting, has been with reference to the stamp act, or the internal revenue law as relating to stamps. In that respect I have written to our two Senators, and also to the Representative of our Raleigh district in Congress, requesting them to use their efforts to have it repealed or modified, so that we should be eased in some way. I have written to the Representative twice, to the Senators once. I do not know, of course, whether it will produce any effect on their minds; it has not in legislation; but we hope that early in the next session they will do something.

THE PRESIDENT. We will hear from the Committee on Legislation, Mr. H. R. Horne, Chairman.

MR. HORNE. Mr. President, Mr. Hancock has been the active and efficient member of the Committee on Legislation. Unfortunately he is not here to-day. I believe nothing has been done since our last meeting. It has not been thought necessary to make any effort to get any amendment to the act, though I will be glad to have any member of the Association present, if they wish to do so, to propose any alteration in the Pharmacy act. I have heard it suggested since I have been here that possibly we can get an amendment that would render it impossible to have proprietors of drug stores unless they were registered pharmacists. They say there are such restrictions in other States—Pennsylvania, for instance. That would exclude department stores from our line of business. I do not know whether or not that is feasible; but there are States whose Pharmacy acts are so constructed that it is impossible for any one not registered to run a drug department. That would also prevent physicians from owning the stores where they have their prescriptions put up.

THE PRESIDENT. Gentlemen, you have heard the report of the Committee. Have you any remarks or suggestions to make? It is a very important matter, and, if there is any one present to suggest in what way we could reach this very important point, it would be a good thing. Hearing no responses, we will now hear from the Committee on Adulterations. Is any one of that Committee present?

THE SECRETARY. Mr. Wearn is the only one here, and he is not in the room at present.

THE PRESIDENT. Is there any one present who was appointed a delegate to the National Retail Druggists' Association?

THE SECRETARY. Mr. J. H. Bobbitt is the Chairman and has a report to make. He is not present now, but desires to make it to-morrow morning if it be agreeable.

THE PRESIDENT. Is there any report from the delegates to the Virginia or the South Carolina Pharmaceutical Association?

The Secretary stated there was none.

MR. HICKS. If there is nothing else pressing, I would like to offer this motion or resolution in connection with the matter we were talking about this morning. I think that many of the pharmacists throughout the State do not know what the Pharmacy law is. If you ask them why they are not coming to the meeting, they say they do not see what good there is in it. I was in Goldsboro yesterday and heard a man there make that very remark. And I think they do not understand the law, so I offer this resolution for the purpose of calling their attention to it:

"The Secretary of the Board of Pharmacy is hereby directed to address a letter to each member of this Association calling their attention to the provisions of the present Pharmacy law, especially that part relating to the sale of poisons, such as laudanum and the like, in general stores, and the compounding of prescriptions by persons not licensed. And requesting them to report to him any violations that may come under their observation. And when such violations are reported, he shall immediately require the Sheriff of the county in which it occurs to proceed as directed by law."

First, by addressing a letter to each member, it would serve to remind them that we have a Pharmacy law and a good one, and it would appeal to them to co-operate with us in having it enforced. A good many of them are probably violating it without really knowing it, and it would serve as a reminder that we are looking after it; and further, if they know of other violations that are going on around them, it would point to them a way of relief which probably they do not recognize, and generally, I believe that when these violations are reported there would be a way of relief without proceeding to litigation. Usually just to let the man know that you are looking after him is sufficient to keep him in the right way.

THE PRESIDENT. Do you offer that as a motion or a resolution?

MR. HICKS. I offer it as a motion or a resolution, whichever would be the proper form.

THE PRESIDENT. You have heard the resolution as offered by Mr. Hicks. Is there a second to it?

Motion seconded and carried.

THE PRESIDENT. Is the Committee appointed this morning on Time and Place ready to report?

MR. HICKS. We have decided that Greensboro would be apparently the most available place; it is reasonably central in the State and we hope hereafter to have a larger attendance. The time we have not decided upon, but I would suggest that it be in May.

MR. HORNE. I move that the Committee be requested to complete their report to-morrow. We may have other members present then and may possibly have other places in view. Carried.

THE PRESIDENT. The Committee will so understand that they will finish their report to-morrow morning.

MR. HORNE. I move that we adjourn until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Carried, and the meeting adjourned.

THIRD SESSION.

THURSDAY, July 18, 1900.

THE PRESIDENT. The first thing in order is the reading of the minutes of last meeting.

Moved and seconded that the reading be dispensed with. Carried.

THE PRESIDENT. Is the Executive Committee ready to report?

THE SECRETARY. Mr. President, I think there are several new members to join this morning, and Mr. Bobbitt, who has their names, is not in the house.

THE PRESIDENT. Is the Committee on Time and Place ready to report?

MR. HICKS. At the request of the Chairman, I would like to report that we have decided that Winston would be the most agreeable place for business and pleasure, and we leave it to the Executive Committee to decide the exact date, probably the middle of June. We would suggest that Mr. E. W. O'Hanlon be one of the committee to make arrangements.

THE PRESIDENT. Any remarks on this decision? Shall Winston be our next place of meeting? There are quite a number of absentees, and with the permission of the Chairman of the Committee, I will defer the vote until a little later. Is there any one here to represent Winston?

MR. LANDQUIST. I am from Salem and we would be glad to have you all come up there. Our place was chosen about eight years ago, before those disastrous fires, and when they occurred we were compelled to ask Greensboro to have your Association meet there, so that it has been ten or fifteen years since you have been in Winston.

Moved, seconded and carried that the report of the Committee be adopted.

MR. HORNE. What recommendation do they make as to time?

THE PRESIDENT. Mr. Hicks, have you any suggestion as to time?

MR. HICKS. I would suggest the middle of June and leave the final decision to the Executive Committee and to Mr. O'Hanlon, the local Secretary. Of course, we pay our own expenses, but the druggists usually see that we have a pleasant time socially, although, of course, we do not make that a part of the consideration.

THE SECRETARY. There is one trouble about it. It is absolutely necessary that we decide on the time, because there is a good deal of delay in finding out from the Executive Committee what date they want. There are five members of the Committee and it is pretty hard to get them together on a date. I believe it would be best for this convention to decide definitely on some date. The ex-Secretary, Mr. Horne, has had some trouble on that line and he knows what it is.

MR. HORNE. It is very important, if we can, to decide on the precise time, but we must be very careful to avoid conflict with any other meeting.

THE PRESIDENT. I would suggest that we fix the date, and if we find later that it is necessary to change, the change can be made by the local Secretary.

DR. GREEN. In order to dispose of the matter of the time of our next meeting, I move that the President and Secretary of the Association and the local Secretary at Winston determine the matter, and the time must be fixed previous to the publication of the Annual Report of Proceedings, so that it can be announced in them. Seconded and carried.

THE PRESIDENT. Are there any other reports?

MR. FENTRESS. The Auditing Committee desire to make the following report:

To the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association:

GENTLEMEN:—We have examined the reports and accounts of the Secretary and Treasurer of the Association, and the report of the Secretary and Treasurer of the Board of Pharmacy, and find them correct.

H. L. FENTRESS,

H. R. HORNE,

Committee.

MR. HORNE. I would like to make a suggestion as to that report. I do not wish to reflect on the Secretary and Treasurer of the Association, but in order to avoid an unnecessary amount of trouble on the part of the Auditing Committee, I would suggest that hereafter they render a statement of their receipts, which may be easily verified by comparison with their books. This would result in a more thorough examination. I offer that as a suggestion, not for the record.

MR. COOK. We have a member here whose certificate of membership was destroyed in a fire and he applies for a new certificate. I wish the consent of the Association to grant him one, marking it duplicate. His certificate was issued in 1888.

THE PRESIDENT. If there are no objections the Treasurer will issue the new certificate.

THE SECRETARY. The Executive Committee will make a further report now.

THE PRESIDENT. We will hear from the Executive Committee.

MR. MATTHEWS. I have four applications here and I think there are two or three others who wish to make application in a few minutes.

THE PRESIDENT. You may defer your report if you think there will be others.

THE SECRETARY. Mr. President, I read in your presence yesterday a letter from the Secretary of the National Association of Retail Druggists, saying that the President of that Association would be with us to-day, and would speak upon the workings of the National organization. I am happy to state that he is in this hall this morning, and will address us. I introduce to this convention Mr. Simon N. Jones, of Louisville. (Applause.)

MR. JONES.

Mr. President, and Gentlemen of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association:

It is certainly a very great pleasure for me to meet you gentlemen here. In the first place, because I am actively engaged in the retail business myself; and in the next place, in my official capacity, it affords me very great pleasure to see the interest that is manifested in your local pharmaceutical work by the attendance that you have at this meeting. I came from Virginia yesterday, and I am sorry to say that, while Virginia is much more populous than North Carolina, they did not have the number, they did not have the active workers, and they did not really have that spirit of enterprise and energy that I have seen developed in the State of North Carolina.

Coming as I do from Kentucky, we frequently come handicapped. People expect too much of us. They think that every man born in the State of Kentucky is a born orator—that the first words spoken by the male child born in Kentucky is either "My Fellow-citizens" or "Gentlemen of the Jury." (Laughter.) It is an unfortunate reputation sometimes to have. Then, besides, we frequently come in for a great deal of sport and fun for the amusement of the people at large. They say that the average man in Kentucky is fond of looking upon the wine when it is red. They say that he doesn't put a very large value on human life. They say he goeth forth in the morning half shot, and he cometh home at night full shot. They say he goeth forth in the morning in joy and gladness, and cometh home at night in scraps and fragments. All of these things are exceedingly amusing; but they all give a Kentuckian a peculiar reputation—a kind of go-as-you-please reputation. They expect more from us than from almost any other State; but I do wish that I had that power of speech that could get the ear of every retail druggist in the State of North Carolina on this great cause that I have the honor to represent. I believe that, by uniting the retail druggists of all these States, North Carolina as well as the balance of them, we would really have the direction of our own business virtually in our own hands. As long as we endeavor to carry on this great fight single handed, just that long are we going to be the victims of any one who sees fit to impose upon us. I wish I had the power to take you in your mind's eye, in your imagination, to the points that I have been, and see the results that have come to the retail trade where they have been organized, and see how thoroughly helpless and powerless they are when they are not organized. I have been to the great city of Chicago, with its nearly two million people—enough almost to populate three or four of our States. I have seen those poor people, 75 per cent of the druggists, owned, body and soul, boots and breeches, by the jobbers, no more a free agent than if he were not a free agent. His daily earnings are contributed to him every day. I have been to the city of St. Louis, where 70 per cent of them belong to the jobber, where the jobber will sit in his store, and a fellow will come in and say, "Do you know of a store for sale?" "Yes, this one of So-and-So." "No, it is not for sale." "I say it is. He owes me money, and, if he don't pay, I will shut him up." Come to your near-by city of Baltimore, where the jobber and the retailer no more work in unison than oil and water—where the jobber retails and the retailers wholesale, and the result is no one has any prosperity; and the jobber, I suppose, owns them body and soul. Go to Cincinnati and find those poor devils walking down on Saturday afternoon on their way to the jobber. A man's receipts may be $60, $75, $80 or $100; the jobber says, "How much did you take in this week?" "$75." "Well, I can't give you all of it this week." "But my wife has to have a pair of shoes, and the baby wants a hat." "I don't care about your wife and baby. I will take $70 and you can have $5; so shut up."

Now, those who are able to contribute a small amount of money towards remedying this evil have two channels, first the National Association, second the State Association. The people who are really willing to say, "Thus far and no farther," that is the kind of people we want, and that is the kind we will have. We will not sit idly and see this thing go on continuously—see the retailers ground down to a bondage worse than the slaves before the war. He has more average intelligence than any other profession in the world. The average druggist has more brains, and more everything else except business capacity, than any one else in the world. You can talk to him about anything, but a matter of business, and the average druggist is far in advance of almost any other profession, barring none, not even law or medicine—not even the preachers in the pulpit. Yet we sit quietly by in a little eight-by ten shop till we get so narrow and contracted that we do not really live. We do not come to the meetings, and we do not help each other like we should—simply pursue one route, and run along in that same course, just like a lot of cattle. It has been my pleasure to come to an Association where absolutely they were lying on their backs and doing nothing for themselves; and I thank God that I have been able to raise them up to where they have become free and independent men.

I went to Cleveland, and everybody said, "You will not get a hearing." I said, "Well, I will take my chance of that." I have seen in that hall two hundred and twenty five retail druggists that to-day give directions, and Mr. Jobber has got to agree, and the wholesale man and the manufacturer. I went to the city of Toledo, and a jobber said, "I am sorry for you. I sent for the retailers to come to meet you, and only two showed up." I said, "Well, if I can convince those two, I would rather have them than all the balance of them." It is not numbers that make success. It is the wide awake, active, industrious, hard-working fellow that has a thought beyond to-day—not the man that lives for himself. If I thought that I was living for Simon Jones alone, I wish to God that I was dead. I do not have to do this thing; but I believe that I am put here for some work. I believe every man's mission here is for some good, I believe every man in this hall, that belongs to the State Association, should make up his mind now that he is not living for himself alone. You cannot get anything out of that. What good does it do you to go to work and count your shekels morning and night and say these belong to me, and then look across the street and find your neighbor in need. Is it not a great deal better to say, "Now here, while I am putting this money in my pocket, my neighbor is getting some of it." Should it not be a matter of pleasure to know that while you are succeeding, somebody else is succeeding, that prosperity for you is prosperity for him? That is the way we should live.

I was talking to a man in Richmond yesterday, and he said, "I find these retail druggists are not in it and I cut loose." I said, "Did you get anything out of it?" Said he, "I am the most unpopular man in Richmond." I said, "Is that of any value to you? There will be druggists living when you are dead. There will be men who will say, 'There is a fellow who, if he had done what he ought to have done, I should like to have been a pall bearer at his funeral and should like to have shown him honor.' " Excuse me for my plain talk; I am telling you the truth. I should like to know that when Simon Jones is dead, the retail druggists of Louisville will turn out en masse and say, "There was a fellow who made the world brighter because he lived in it; he made every man that he was associated with feel that what was his interest was his own. He smoothed the pathway of many of them." Every cent that I have or expect to have is laid upon the altar of the prosperity of the retail druggists. (Applause) And I am getting good out of it. Wherever I go they are glad to see me and I am glad to see them. Wherever I go, no matter where it is, whether it is Chicago, where every man is a legitimate victim for everybody else, or wherever it may be, I am well received, because they all know there is no selfish spirit in me, because they all know that the work is not done for my benefit; it is done in the cause of the retail druggists of the United States.

Gentlemen, this idea is a large one; we are not going to accomplish these things at once. It is not easy to get forty thousand people to think alike, but that we have done a great deal of good, that our prospects for the future are bright, no man can question. It is not to day like it was a year ago, when we would go to the jobber and ask him to do a certain thing for us, when we would go to the proprietor and ask him to do certain things for us. Who could make me believe that a man like Mr. Hood, with his enormous business and fortune, would telegraph me at the city of Chicago and ask me to meet him at the Galt House; me, a little five cent retailer! He wanted to advise with me on a business proposition. Mr Hood knew that in the palm of my hand I had a certain amount of influence, and he knew what was best for him to do. He knew that with one single stroke of the pen I could make his cake dough, and he knew that I had the courage to do it. They are all the same way; they are after the stuff and we must tell them the way to get it. When we make up our minds to wield that power that there is with us, just that moment we have got them right in the palm of our hand. (Applause.)

I do not believe in doing this work unjustly. I believe in doing everything fair, hewing to the line, giving every man what belongs to him, giving the jobber what belongs to him, the proprietor that protection that he wants, but let him make up his mind, the retailer is going to have what belongs to him, or out he goes. There will be no more of this thing a year from now, this asking favors from anybody. I believe the National Association will be strong enough to say, "Now, gentlemen, you treat us right, and we will sell your stuff. If you do not treat us right, we will be active competitors and it will be a fight to the death." And it will be.

Look at the experience that the Potter Chemical Company have had with the druggists. Look at the city of Pittsburg, with its nearly half a million. Not a retail druggist from Altoona to Pittsburg sells a dollar's worth of their stuff. Look at Louisville, where we issued an edict, "You shall not sell it," and from June 15, 1899, to April 24, 1900, none was sold, and in only three stores out of one hundred and sixty can you buy anything they make, and yet Mr White says he does not care. Let me tell you, the average New Englander does care. At Indianapolis the same thing; at Milwaukee the same. I can tell you the retailer is not handling it, and there will be less of it handled year after year. The retail druggist is very slow, but I tell you when you do wake him up, you have an enemy to fight which will require all your strength and force to meet.

We pursued a programme of peace and quiet all the way along, and tried to convince them what is right and wrong to do, and have allowed ourselves to become disorganized, but we are quitting that. We are all going to say what tends to the interest of one is to the interest of the balance, and I tell you, gentlemen, we must stand by our State Association and organize our local Association, and the whole solution of this problem is in our own hands. I have seen it so thoroughly demonstrated that there is no question that it is so. So long as we are disorganized, just so long will you be the victims of every one who will impose upon you. (Applause.)

In coming among my fellow druggists it is but natural that my thoughts should turn towards the subject of association and co operation upon which so much that is of interest to all of us depends.

The National Association of Retail Druggists, created as it was out of the positive necessity, of the retailer everywhere, making a "long pull, a strong pull and a pull all together" to bring out of the misfortunes and abuses that our profession has been the victim of some semblance of independence and prosperity, has certainly done enough up to the present time to make it worthy not only of the support but the aggressive assistance of every pharmacist in the land that has any love for his calling or who takes any interest in its promotion or success. To every one engaged in the preparation of the sale of medicines, proprietor, jobber, or retailer, the future of the National Association of Retail Druggists should be a subject of great concern. In its destiny is really wrapped the interest, the welfare, in fact the very existence of the business as one of those that are to continue amongst the high vocations which education and professional requirements have always accorded it. In the older countries and to some extent in this country in times gone by, the retail druggist was in some degree a professional man—drugs and medicines—the compounding of prescriptions—were his mainstays. The sales of toilet articles, perfumes, combs and brushes were accredited to him as a necessary adjunct to his business, and up to a few years ago, these lines were his exclusively. As time moved on the country store, the dry goods store, and the grocery encroached upon his business, but he made no objection. Then came the department store in the great trade centers which rapped him hard and finally the "cut-rate" establishment—and this continuation has robbed the retail druggist not only of his professional calling to a great extent, but has well nigh robbed him of his ability to make a decent living. Notwithstanding all of these difficulties, it has been hardly two short years, since a concerted movement was commenced to regain what had been lost and while we have not as yet accomplished what we started to do, I believe that each of you will say that something has been done and that the future looks encouraging. Who amongst you that will not acknowledge that we have wielded a force? Who amongst you would have thought that it would have been possible in so short a time to have in active membership, if I am properly informed, more than 60 per cent. of the retail trade of the country and the active sympathy if not financial support of 25 per cent. of the remainder, and we would have had those in line if they had felt as keenly as we have the disasters and misfortunes that dishonest competition always brings. These people get full retail prices. They work in harmony, they get full compensation for the professional skill and hence do not appreciate the necessity of binding themselves together and getting under the protecting wing of the National Association of Retail Druggists. But unless we have the power, unless we can have the force and the influence to control the distribution of goods in the future, that time will come, just the same as ours did and then it will be a battle to get into line, unless it is too late. I can remember, and it is less than five years ago, when in my own city, everything was sold at full price. When a customer would come in and say he could get a bottle of medicine worth one dollar, at Macy's in New York, or the Fair in Chicago at 65 cents, we would set the package back on the shelf and inform him it was a long ways from Louisville to either of those places. But realizing that fact, he made the purchase at our price and not his as is done to-day. Then if we had had as strong a local organization as we have to day, with a National Association to appeal to, our misfortunes would not have overtaken us so completely. This one opportunity has passed, but if we will stand together there will be another and having passed through the fiery ordeal of experience we will know better the next time; we will fight the enemy as soon as we can get at him and not wait until he is comfortably intrenched in our midst. The "National Association" has no pet plans or schemes upon which its success absolutely depends. Its sole object is the relief of the retail trade from the encroachments of those who have no right in the profession, from the unbusinesslike competition of those who through deceit and duplicity, not the legitimate dealer of the business that belongs, of right to him, to free him from the association with those who would degrade the members of an honorable calling to the level of almost a criminal, that his pockets might be filled with gold and his fellow-man wrecked. I say that we are not bound to any plan. We have offered one and it has to a great extent been successful; the distribution of goods through the jobbers. We have approved another, urging that all jobbers shall be agents for the proprietors and all sales forbidden to department stores, brokers and cutters, and this will soon be put into active operation. But, suppose for the sake of argument, this should fail. Do you think for a moment that your officers intend to lay down and surrender. Not on your life, we are not built that way, we will try some other plan. We do not intend that this great Association shall go to pieces on account of one failure, nor on account of twenty or any other number. We have enlisted for the war and if we are given the support of those in whose interests all of this work is being done, you need have no doubt of the future. It may not come to-day, this week, this month, but just as sure as there is a "Supreme Being" if we will stand together, organize into Associations, our time will come and victory will be ours.

Some may accuse me of being too optimistic. I believe I have given the whole question as much study as any retailer in the country but I sometimes get discouraged when I hear that some proprietor or jobber has slipped up on us. But when I hear of more Associations forming, of some town restoring prices, of some proprietor who takes a broad stand, thus we are right and that he will help us.

Of all the questions that have come before me since I have been acting in my official capacity, none have been considered so absolutely necessary as that of organization. During the past eight months, I have visited the retailer at many of the larger cities, Buffalo, Cleveland, Toledo, Detroit, Indianapolis and Chicago, and wherever we have found strong Associations, those benefits have accrued almost at once. The entire territory of northern Ohio is organized with one Association, representing several counties, including in this territory the great city of Cleveland. At that place when Mr. Wooten and myself went, there the retail trade was all to pieces. The jobbers were selling the department stores, the retailers had a buying club, in fact, "every one was for himself" with the result that none of them were doing a profitable business. They organized this strong Association, placed the entire management in the hands of an organizer, who visits each and every member of the Association as often as possible; if any disputes or misunderstanding arise between the members or between them and the jobbers or proprietors he settles it, and as a consequence the Association virtually controls the entire situation.

The great city of Chicago is being organized by wards, notwithstanding the ruinous prices made by the department stores, not only in patents but on prescriptions. In some of these wards full prices are obtained, these are closed at certain hours on Sunday and at night greatly to the benefit of all concerned. This has been only a part of the work of the National Association of Retail Druggists. Several towns and cities have resumed full prices through the National Association, notably Knoxville, Tenn., when during the month of April, one store advertised to fill prescriptions absolutely without cost and all kinds of patents at almost half price. It would be needless for me to say to you that single handed we can accomplish nothing, what is needed are strong local Associations, it makes no difference how small they are, if they represent the trade in their own locality. No jobber or proprietor will take the risk of disorganizing an Association at any point, when he knows the trade is organized. This I know has been tried and in many instances the jobber has lost his business by selling any one article of the local Association. The greatest difficulty that we have to overcome are the conditions we find in your State where "cut rates" do not prevail to any great extent. We feel secure, but let me warn you, that you are in constant danger. You do not know the minute or the hour when some dry goods man will put in a stock of your goods, nor the time when some fellow will see the opportunity of setting up an opposition store in your midst. Let me say to you, as one who has had the experience, that your failure to organize is a continual invitation for those fellows to come among you and I can also tell you from experience that when they do become located, it will cost you many a good dollar before you get rid of them. These fellows are all in a "trust," they help each other to get supplied and while the sources of supply are becoming more circumscribed every day, still they can annoy you, if they can get any goods at all. It is in the power of any local Association to control their business if they are organized solidly and I repeat that your failure to be prepared for these only make your territory more inviting. I can not too strongly urge you to organize local Associations and affiliate with the National Association. With a strong "National Association" to aid you to assist you in controlling the distribution of goods you are absolutely safe from ruinous competition. I beg of you not to delay this important matter. The National Association of Retail Druggists is getting stronger every day, and if the local Associations will give it the proper assistance, the day is not far distant when the distribution of all articles that belong properly to us will be in our hands.

The power of the National Association of Retail Druggists is fully appreciated by the jobbers, the good-will of the National Association of Retail Druggists is a source of continual concern to even the most prosperous and independent proprietor and all that we have ever asked is the protection of our members from ruinous competition. The day is not far distant when they will be compelled to grant us all the protection that we want to market their products through some other avenue, which they will find impossible and improbable.

I believe I state an absolute fact when I say that the entire future of the retail drug business is entrusted with the success or failure of the National Association of Retail Druggists. When it is patent to any one what has been done up to the time its failure looks to me impossible. Is there a man in this house who will not acknowledge that the strength of the National Association of Retail Druggists forced the reduction in price of many proprietary articles, nor will any one question the fact that if we had not so vigorously opposed many of these articles would have been advanced to a price that would have left the retailer only 25 per cent. profit, even at full price? Who will question that the power of the National Association of Retail Druggists was not felt by the Ways and Means Committee when our representatives appeared before them without influence or money, without a salaried attorney, and placed with them as representatives of a great business association to relieve us of our unjust and onerous tax, which I firmly believe would have been done had the time permitted it and which I believe will be done as soon as Congress assembles. We should go to each of the candidates for Congress, and get his pledge to advocate its repeal and if he hesitates or refuses, don't vote for him. Let him know we are not in business for "politics," but for a living and he must state where he stands. Let me beg of every delegate in this hall when he goes home to resolve to strengthen his home organization, or organize one if they have none in his town or city. Get all the druggists in your neighborhood with you, get together every week or every month, go over your experiences, both those that are pleasant and those that are disagreeable, work together in harmony, co operate—resolve that what is good for the majority will be the best for you.

Give your ideas on all things, no matter whether professional or of a business character, you will find it not time wasted, but the most profitable use you have put it to. Many a sore spot can be healed in this way, many warm friendships can be established and in time you will find these meetings not only profitable in a financial way but that they will prove a recreation and a source of much pleasure.

Take to heart, the motto of the great State that I have the honor to represent, "United we stand, Divided we fall," resolve individually and collectively to do all in your power to foster your local Association, join your State Association and stand by the National Association. Whatever your officers approve give them credit for believing that it is to your interest and give them your hearty support.

In conclusion, gentlemen, let me beg of you to hoist your banner high, write over the top of it, if you will: "North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association," link with it these symbolic letters, N. A. R. D., that we hope will bring to all of us in time our measure of success and prosperity, let there be encircled with the motto, that hurled many another band to victory, viz: "In hoc signo vinces" let these be painted in letters of burning gold, so bright that they can be seen of all men both by day and by night. Let your platform be fidelity, be faithful to your profession, to your fellows to your family, to yourselves; be charitable to your competitor, determine to give your Local, State and National Association all of the assistance in your power, never forgetting that what will be good for you, will be good for all, whatever will bring you pleasure and profit will be shared around, and with this assistance and faithfulness of the cause, there can be no defeat.

We will continue the fight for the retail druggist, till whatever shall belong to him, he shall have. Your officers, State and National, will protect your interests and endeavor to return to you in the fullest measure fourfold of what you have done for them. I hope these remarks will fall in willing ears, and as for your officers, we will promise to continue the fight until the power of the National Association of Retail Druggists shall be recognized, until every village, town or city can appeal to it for advice and deliverance from unfair competition and feel assured of its prompt and powerful protection. You do your part by organizing and affiliating with the National Association—we will promise to do ours in return.

MR. SIMPSON. I would like on behalf of the Association to extend the heartiest thanks for the address that our brother Jones has so kindly given us, and I move, sir, that the motion be put to a rising vote. Seconded and carried.

MR. BOBBITT. I want to make a motion that this Association elect Mr. Simon N. Jones an honorary member. Seconded and carried.

MR. JONES. Mr. President, I appreciate the honor that has been conferred upon me. I have been a worker in the cause for many years and a member of the State Association ever since it was organized, and I appreciate the compliment of making me a member of your Association. (Applause.)

THE PRESIDENT. I will state for the benefit of those who came in late that Winston has been selected for our next place of meeting. The time was left to the President, the Secretary and the local Secretary at Winston.

MR. HORNE. I move, Mr. President, that Mr. Jones be requested to furnish the Association with a copy of his address for publication in the proceedings. Seconded and carried.

MR. MATTHEWS. Mr. President, I have five applicants for membership filled out in due form. They are:

|                               |                     |
|-------------------------------|---------------------|
| LEONIDAS B. SASSER . . . . .  | Wilmington, N. C.   |
| EUGENE SIKES . . . . .        | Fayetteville, N. C. |
| EDGAR F. TOWNSEND . . . . .   | Red Springs, N. C.  |
| THOMAS B. ALLISON . . . . .   | Burlington, N. C.   |
| MURDOCK H. MCKINNON . . . . . | Red Springs, N. C.  |

THE PRESIDENT. You have heard the names proposed for membership; what shall we do with them?

MR. SIMPSON. I move that the Secretary be instructed to cast the vote of the Association for them; which was accordingly done.

MR. MATTHEWS. I would like to state that Mr. Horne has made application for his son, Warren Winslow Horne, Fayetteville, for membership.

MR. SIMPSON. I move that it be included with the five other applicants.

THE PRESIDENT. Unless there is some objection it will be so ordered.

MR. HORNE. I move that the Association extend its heartiest sympathy to our President, Mr. J. B. Smith, on account of his sickness and sickness in his family, which prevents his attendance at this meeting. Seconded and carried.

MR. FENTRESS. I notice that an old friend who was with us at the last meeting, J. F. Brookfield, Newark, N. J., is now dead, and I move that the Secretary be instructed to send the sympathy of the Association to his house and to his wife. Seconded and carried.

MR. HORNE. I move, sir, that the thanks of this Association be extended to our brothers, the Wilmington druggists, for their kind hospitality to the Association on this occasion, and that this motion be adopted by a rising vote. Seconded and carried.

THE SECRETARY. I again call the attention of the members to the fact that we have some books for free distribution in the rear part of this hall. The subject is "The Drug Trade in Foreign Countries." It may be of some interest to the members to know how the business is conducted elsewhere, and it may be an inducement for some of us to emigrate where we can get more money out of our profession. (Laughter.)

THE PRESIDENT. Gentlemen, we will hear Mr. Bobbitt's report.

MR. BOBBITT. Before reading the report which I have written out, I wish to state that at the last meeting held in Durham we decided to become a member of the N. A. R. D., and to send two delegates, the number to which we were entitled. The President appointed as delegates Mr. O'Hanlon, of Winston, and Mr. Yearby, of Durham, with alternates, Mr. Stedman, of Oxford, and Mr. Bradham, of New Bern. Just prior to the meeting I had a letter from Mr. Vaughan wanting to know if I could go in the place of the delegate who could not. I wrote him that I could go, and then received my credentials, and Mr. Yearby and I were present. I expected Mr. Yearby to make this report, and only a day or two before I came down I found he could not be here, so I wrote something from my memory and from the report of the Secretary.

To the Officers and Members of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association:

The first annual meeting of the National Association of Retail Druggists was perhaps the most notable in the history of pharmaceutical gatherings in point of earnestness, determination and enthusiasm on the part of the delegates assembled. They had come from more than one-half the States of the Union, and represented a constituency of 20,000 retail druggists, scattered throughout the land. This showed that the druggists of the country were deeply aroused.

The meeting was held in Assembly Hall, Odd Fellows' Temple, Cincinnati, O., and the opening session was called to order by President H. P. Hynson, of the city of Baltimore, Tuesday morning, October 3, 1899, at 11:15 o'clock.

Addresses of welcome were delivered by the Mayor of Cincinnati, Hon. Gustave Tafel; by President Alfred DeLang, on behalf of the Ohio Pharmaceutical Association, and by representatives from several local organizations. To these cordial greetings President Hynson and several of the delegates fittingly responded in well chosen words.

Representatives from the American Pharmaceutical Association, the National Wholesale Druggists' Association and the Proprietary Association of America were present, and were recognized by President Hynson, who invited them to address the convention. They all brought fraternal greetings and pledged good faith and hearty cooperation on the part of their respective organizations. These eloquent addresses were enthusiastically received, and carried conviction to the minds of all present that the allied associations were truly sincere and deeply interested in the success and prosperity of the N. A. R. D.

The regular order of business was begun by the appointment of three Assistant Secretaries: F. L. Way, of New Hampshire; J. G. Spengler, of Ohio, and J. G. Beck, of Maryland

The President appointed as the Committee on Credentials: A. M. Robinson, Maine; J. W. Seeley, Michigan; Max Bloomstein, Tennessee; P. L. Hess, Missouri, and J. H. Bobbitt, North Carolina. This committee reported at a subsequent session that eighty different organizations were represented at the meeting by one or more delegates.

At the second session Vice-President Heckler took the chair, and President Hynson read his admirable address. It was an able and comprehensive exposition of the work that lay before the Association, and deservedly received the close attention of every delegate. The ringing words of the President were frequently applauded, which lent inspiration to the occasion. On motion, this address was referred to a special committee for action on the recommendations therein contained

We will not attempt in this report to present a complete set of the minutes of the convention, in detail, because both time and space forbid. We will endeavor to confine our remarks to the most important features.

The annual report of Secretary Thomas V. Wooten was a complete resume of the work accomplished by his office for the year. He spoke of the various methods that had been employed to get the attention of the drug trade of the country. He expressed his appreciation of the valuable services which had been rendered by the Pharmaceutical Journals, both by publishing news notes furnished by himself and by editorials that had appeared from time to time. During the year five Bulletins were issued, which had been judiciously distributed, and had been of the greatest value and had served to keep the work of the organization before the drug trade of the country generally. The work of organizing new societies in many localities and reviving old ones that had been dormant for quite awhile, and of bringing them into affiliation with the National order, had constituted the bulk of the work and correspondence. Many of the letters sent out were of necessity largely personal, and hence required a great deal of work. The first year's work on this line had resulted in bringing into the National Association 36 State Associations and 101 local Associations, making a grand total of 137 affiliating bodies. Information had been obtained that, with the single exception of the State of Washington, price cutting existed in all parts of the country, especially in the larger cities, where the results had been most disastrous. Mr. Wooten said "that it was gratifying to him to be able to report that in nearly every locality where an Association had been formed to co-operate with the N. A. R. D., better conditions had resulted from conferences of retailers with each other, and the common determination to work for the advancement of the interests of the National Body " Among the many timely recommendations made by the Secretary, perhaps the most important was that to put an efficient organizer in the field to follow up the work already accomplished, and to furnish information and correct misapprehensions wherever they might exist. An insufficiency of funds was the real reason why more work and better results had not been accomplished. The report was accepted and referred to a special committee for consideration, which subsequently reported most favorably.

The reports of the various Standing Committees were submitted and accepted. They were comprehensive and replete with information of interest, and evidenced the vast amount of work that had been done by the committeemen.

The financial report of the Treasurer, Mr John W. Lowe, showed that the receipts from all sources for the year had been $4,449.15, and that the disbursements had been $3,904.98, leaving a balance on hand of $544.17.

The North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association was represented on the Nominating Committee by W. M. Yearby, and on the Committee on Resolutions by J. H. Bobbitt.

One of the most important features of the meeting was the presentation of the Executive Committee's report by Chairman Frank E. Holliday. It was shown that a large number of leading manufacturers had promptly agreed to conform to the resolution of the St. Louis meeting in regard to proprietary articles, the cost prices of which should not exceed $2.00, $4.00 and $8.00 per dozen, and had revised their price-lists accordingly. The work which had received the most attention at the hands of this Committee, however, was the question of the maintenance of full retail prices on all proprietaries. Conferences had been held at frequent intervals. The Chairman made repeated trips to the business centers, and was accorded personal interviews with a number of the leading manufacturers and jobbers. He was present at all of the joint committee meetings of the three allied branches of the trade, and attended the annual meetings of these bodies, and easily convinced those in attendance that the N. A. R. D. had been organized on such lines as justified and demanded their support and recognition. They reported that an understanding had been arrived at which was agreeable and equitable to retailers, wholesalers and proprietors alike, and which would put an end to price-cutting—a summary of which amounts to this: that the proprietors agree to supply their products only to an approved list of jobbers, who in turn agree to limit their sales to retailers who are not aggressive cutters, and refuse all sales to department stores, and that the N. A. R. D.

pledges itself to oppose substitution of every kind, and to give to those proprietors who are in sympathy with the retailers their hearty support.

The resolutions, as drafted by the committee, were approved. They embraced all of the important suggestions and recommendations that had been proposed, and which were thought worthy of adoption.

The Secretary was employed to devote his entire time to the work, and the Executive Committee was instructed to provide adequate means for all necessary purposes. Hence the assessment for 1900 was increased to 50 cents for each member of the Associations in membership. It was estimated that the expenses for the current year would be approximately $7,500.

The important subjects of War Tax, Trade marks and Patents, and the enactment of a Pure Food Law, had received the attention of the Committee on National Legislation, who reported progress in these matters.

The officers elected for the current year are men of ability and energy, progressive in thought and action. With the united support and co-operation of the retail organizations, success will surely be achieved.

Since the meeting at Cincinnati, many of the plans proposed have materialized, and the efforts of the workers have proven most effective, as set forth in Bulletins 6, 7 and 8 issued by the Secretary, which we herewith append, but do not wish to include as a part of our report.

In conclusion, permit us to say that your delegation was treated with courtesy and favor by the officers and members of the Association, and we advance the hope that the N. C. P. A. will retain her connection with the National Association of Retail Druggists.

Respectfully submitted,

J. H. BOBBITT,
W. M. YEARBY.

MR. BOBBITT. I wish to give to the Secretary a set of resolutions to be acted on in connection with the report.

The Secretary reads the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, The excellent work done and the satisfactory results accomplished by the National Association of Retail Druggists during the past year inspire confidence in the ultimate success of its plans for improving the financial condition of the drug trade; and

WHEREAS, The said National Association and its executive officers are entitled to the confidence and encouragement of every organization in the United States which is trying to improve the commercial status of retail druggists; therefore, by the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association, be it

Resolved, That the loyalty of this organization to the National Association is hereby reaffirmed.

Resolved, That the President of the Association is directed to appoint three druggists in each county of the State to bring the druggists of that county into affiliation with the N. A. R. D., either through the local organization which already exists, or through one which shall be formed for this purpose.

Resolved, That the Treasurer of the Association is directed to pay to the Treasurer of the N. A. R. D. fifty cents for each active member of the . . . . . Pharmaceutical Association not already affiliated with the N. A. R. D. (through a local society), the same being the dues of this organization for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1900.

Resolved, That the President shall appoint delegates to the N. A. R. D. Convention to be held at Detroit, September 12-14, 1900, in the ratio of one delegate for each one hundred members of the Association and one for a fraction of a hundred members.

Resolved, That the members of the Association are urged to advance by every means in their power the interests of the National Association.

MR. GREEN. I move that the report of Mr. Bobbitt be received, and that the resolutions offered be adopted. Seconded and carried.

THE PRESIDENT. Is there any other report.

MR. MATTHEWS. I have one other application for membership, Mr. George Davis, Beaufort, N. C.

MR. SIMPSON. I move that the Secretary be instructed to cast the ballot of the Association for his election. Seconded and carried.

THE PRESIDENT. Next in order is the election of officers.

MR. GREEN. As the next business in order is the nomination of President, I have the pleasure of introducing the name of Mr. R. H. Jordan, of Charlotte, as the next President.

The motion was seconded and, upon being put by Mr. Green, carried.

PRESIDENT JORDAN. I thank you for the honor. The next in order is the election of First Vice-President,

The following names were placed in nomination:

Mr. G. R. Pilkington, Pittsboro, N. C.

Mr. E. W. O'Haulon, Winston, N. C.

Mr. John H. Hardin, Wilmington, N. C.

Upon the second ballot Mr. Hardin was elected.

It was moved, seconded and carried that the election be made unanimous.

MR. HARDIN. Mr. President and gentlemen, allow me to thank you for the compliment that you have conferred upon me, and I will try to serve the Association to the best of my ability. Thank you again.

THE PRESIDENT. Nominations are in order for Second Vice-President.

The name of Mr. Henry T. Hicks was placed in nomination and, upon motion, the Secretary was instructed to cast the ballot of the Association for Mr. Hicks, which was accordingly done.

MR. HICKS. I thank you very much for the honor, and I promise you I will do just what I have been doing, the best I can for the Association.

THE PRESIDENT. Nominations are in order for Third Vice-President.

The name of Mr. W. A. Leslie, Morganton, N. C., was placed in nomination, and the Secretary was instructed by the Association to cast the vote for Mr. Leslie, which was done.

MR. LESLIE. I thank you very much for the honor, and will pledge myself to do all that I can for the Association.

THE PRESIDENT. Nominations for the office of Secretary are in order.

The name of Mr. P. W. Vaughan, of Durham, was placed in nomination, and Mr. Munds was instructed to cast the vote of the Association for Mr. Vaughan, which was done.

THE PRESIDENT. Nominations for Treasurer are in order.

It was moved and seconded that Mr. A. J. Cook be re-elected by acclamation, which was done.

MR. COOK. I wish to thank you for your renewed confidence and assure you that I will do the best I can.

MR. VAUGHAN I did not thank you just now for electing me Secretary of the Association, but I do so now with a great deal of pleasure. It is the third time that my friend, Mr. Horne, has got me into trouble. About ten or twelve years ago, in the city of Charlotte, he got me into trouble by trying to make me make a speech at a banquet. Then he got me into deeper trouble by making me Secretary of the Association, and now he has done it again. But I will try to get even with him yet. I will promise you more than the other officers promised. I promise to discharge my duties next year better than in the past, when I had several difficulties to encounter. The proceedings were delayed, for instance, for several months. I was waiting for some reports from the Board of Pharmacy and the report of the Executive Committee on time and place of meeting. Now, if I can get the reports from the Executive Committee, the Board of Pharmacy and others, I hope to have the proceedings in the hands of each member in thirty days or sixty days at the farthest.

THE PRESIDENT. Nominations for the four members of the Executive Committee are in order.

The following names were put in nomination:

Messrs. G. R. Pilkington, G. R. Wooten, A. S. Harrison, J. E. Shell, J. H. Bunting, G. K. Grantham and Mr. W. H. Green.

Mr. Green and Mr. Grantham declined the nomination and Mr. Bunting also offered to decline in order to make it unanimous.

MR. SIMPSON. It is almost too late. I withdraw Mr. Bunting's remarks. (Laughter.)

The balloting resulted in the election of Messrs. Pilkington, Bunting, Harrison and Wooten.

THE PRESIDENT. The next thing in order is the election of a member of the Board of Pharmacy.

Mr. Simpson and Mr. A. B. Matthews were placed in nomination. Mr. Matthews withdrew in favor of Mr. Simpson, and the Secretary was instructed to cast the vote of the Association for Dr. Simpson, who was accordingly elected from April 28, 1901, for five years thereafter.

MR. SIMPSON. I rise to return my sincere thanks to the Association for this renewed manifestation of their confidence and I surely appreciate it. I have been a member of the Board now from its inception in '81 and I believe that I have the honor of being the oldest Secretary in service, not in years of course, as I am still a young fellow. (Laughter.) I thank you sincerely and I hope to be able to do more efficient service in the next year or so than I have in the past. We are better provided, our facilities are better, the law is in better shape, and I hope we will not have occasion for censure or anything of the kind on the part of the Board hereafter.

THE PRESIDENT. Is there any further business before the meeting?

MR. COOK. Does the Association elect delegates to the National Association?

THE PRESIDENT. They are appointed by the chair.

MR. BOBBITT. I wish to offer the following Resolutions:

Resolved, That this Association extend a vote of thanks to the Knights of Pythias for the use of this hall as a meeting place, and to the press of the city for their reports of the Convention.

Seconded and adopted.

THE SECRETARY. Mr. President, one report has not been made, that of the Delegates to the A. Ph. A.

MR. BOBBITT. I believe that my name appeared in the proceedings there, but I thought that I was a delegate to the meeting held in May, and the President, Mr. Smith had appointed other delegates to the Richmond meeting. However, I was present at the Richmond meeting and also Mr. Simpson, and as I have made a report at this meeting, I call on Mr. Simpson for a report of the meeting in Richmond.

MR. SIMPSON. Mr. President, I think that is rather unfair; I did not expect to be called upon to make a report, and at the moment I can not think of anything to report, (Laughter) I know however, that I had a good time. I happened to be present at the meeting of the Pharmacopœia Convention in Washington, but you are all probably familiar with that; one essential change was the incorporation of doses, a very needed change and one that will meet with the approval of all pharmacists here present. I can mention the fact in connection with the A. Ph. A., that for a number of years past at least, they have been in the habit of electing gentlemen who were professors in colleges, etc., men of high attainment in the country. The last one was Prof. Prescott, of Ann Arbor, than whom I do not know a more capable person. Upon the occasion of his retiring the Association took the course of electing a gentleman who is of the rank and file of the working pharmacists, Mr. John F. Patton, of York, Penna.

This seems a step in the right direction showing that our National Associations are giving more attention to the working pharmacists and recognizing their services. As you have learned from former reports the Association appointed a representative to the N. A. R. D., showing that the business portion of the Association took a deep interest in the welfare of the retail pharmacists, and along that line I might say that when all the National Associations work in harmony it seems to me that we ought to accomplish something for the good of the retail druggists.

MR. WEARN. The meeting is now about drawing to a close, and it seems to me it would be proper for each member present here who has the interest of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association at heart, to pledge himself that he will see how many new members he can present at the next meeting in Winston. There is just this about it; the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association has some excellent material in it and some men of determination, and if they will all put their shoulders to the wheel and not wait on the other man to do this and that, but each man feeling his individual responsibility to get what members he can to join next year, we can increase our membership greatly. All it needs is to make the resolution and proceed. We have a large percentage of pharmacists that are registered in North Carolina who are not members of the Association and with a little energy on our part we will eventually bring the whole number into it.

MR. HARRISON. Much can be accomplished by such a movement. In going to our brother pharmacists it will be well to call attention to the good points in the Association. There are members who do not attend and who give as an excuse for not attending that they do not see any good in them. Now if we can show the registered pharmacists throughout the State that we are doing some good, that there is something being accomplished, that there is a remedy for their individual grievances and that the Society is ready to act on the grievance, I do not think we will have any trouble in very largely increasing our membership. I have talked with a good many young men, clerks in the different stores and they nearly all give the same reply when you ask them why they do not join the Association? "Oh, well, what good is it going to do?" "What will I gain by it?" And all that we need to do is to bring it home to them; show them the reports of the Society and show them that there is a remedy for nearly all these evils. I believe that if we all do it in earnest, we will have double the number of members at our next meeting.

MR. SHELL. If Mr. Hicks will amend his resolution by sending his letter to all the druggists in the State it will be better.

MR. HICKS. I will accept the amendment that this letter be sent to all the druggists in the State instead of to the members of the Association.

THE SECRETARY. I am glad these gentlemen have brought out these remarks. I think we ought to talk on this line a little more. It seems that we have not discussed everything that we ought to have done. There is one thing to which I want to call your special attention and that is, the N. A. R. D. We have had a very elaborate address from the President of that organization to-day, and it seems that we have not taken the interest in it that we ought to have done. I am like Mr. Wearn I want to see every city in the State and every town where there are as many as two drug stores, organize themselves into a body and become affiliated with the N. A. R. D. A short time ago in our town of Durham, with a population of fifteen or twenty thousand, I asked the President of our organization to call our members together upon a matter of very grave importance, as I did not know what time the enemy might appear upon the field. I mentioned the matter of joining the N. A. R. D. and every one favored the idea of joining, seven of us are now affiliated with that body. If we ever need their assistance, we feel at liberty to call upon them, and I have no doubt but that they will aid us if necessary. The fee is fifty cents for each member. Now right here in this city of Wilmington they have an organization but they are not affiliated with the National Organization, and I believe right now is the proper time for you gentlemen to join this Association and become active workers and contributors too if necessary. There is a great future for that Association and they will do us good. The enemy is liable to appear in our borders at any time. They are all around us, they are in Virginia, South Carolina, Tennessee, and you can hardly mention a state in which they are not to be found. We are somewhat free from this dreaded evil and we want to do everything that we can to keep them out, and as long as there is a dollar in the treasury of this Association I am in favor of spending it in that cause. It will be money in our pockets ten years hence, or probably in those of the druggists who will follow us twenty-five years hence. You cannot stamp it out too early. I just make these remarks to call the attention of the members to this Association and would like to hear from some others on the same subject.

MR. BOBBITT. I only wish to state this, sir, that a local organization, say in Wilmington would pay the dues of fifty cents each and the State Association would not have to pay on those same members.

MR. HARDIN. Then all we would have to do in a local organization would be to inform the Secretary of the State Association.

THE SECRETARY. I did not know that was a fact until to-day. So our Association at Durham will have to pay the tax, and the State Association will not.

MR. BOBBITT. The Durham Association will pay it, but the State Association will not have to pay it. I should like to know if there is any other Association in the State affiliated with the National Association?

MR. HARDIN. As President of the Wilmington Drug Association, I propose to call a meeting at the earliest moment to see what action we will take about this matter; I think very probably we will go right into it.

MR. BOBBITT. The Asheville Association, Mr. President, was represented at the Cincinnati meeting by Mr. Chandler. The city of Asheville was a cut-rate town, but I have understood since that they have restored prices, all as a result of the N. A. R. D. You see it pays to become a member of the N. A. R. D.

MR. HORNE. I think it is very important for us to do everything we can to promote the N. A. R. D., but there is another thing in connection with our State organization, which is that we ought in every possible way to encourage the members to attend the meetings. That is the most important thing to be done. If the meetings become poorly attended, the Association will be affected by it, will become disorganized and the Board of Pharmacy will go down; everything depends upon the attendance on the meetings. I regret very much to see such a dearth of papers at this meeting, and I think the Committee on Papers and Queries have not attended to their duties properly, and hope that in appointing that committee the next time, Mr. President, you will be very careful to get men that will attend to it. It adds to the interest of the meeting and it makes it profitable to the members to hear the papers discussed.

THE PRESIDENT. Are there any further remarks?

MR. WEARN. As long as we have started out with good resolutions, although I hardly like to ask you to come back here, still it looks as if we could get five or six new members this afternoon, but of course that is with the body as to whether they want to come back or not. As far as I am concerned I would be glad to come back.

MR. HARDIN. Mr. Wearn, do you mean to have an afternoon session?

MR. WEARN. Yes, just to take in new members. I have five or six prospective ones and two or three of them are not in now. I should be sorry to see that many go away without leaving their membership.

MR. HICKS. I move that we adjourn until this afternoon, when we will install the officers and elect new members.

After an invitation to the members to take a birds-eye view of the city from the Masonic Temple, the meeting adjourned.

FOURTH SESSION.

THURSDAY, July 19, 1900.

The meeting was called to order at 4 o'clock p. m., with Mr. H. T. Hicks, Third Vice-President, in the chair.

THE PRESIDENT. Has the Executive Committee any further report to make?

MR. MATTHEWS. I will state that I have five more applicants here, duly signed, and the wherewith with them. They are:

|                                |                   |
|--------------------------------|-------------------|
| JOHN EDWARD KOONCE . . . . .   | Richlands, N. C.  |
| JOSEPH A. WHITE . . . . .      | Davidson, N. C.   |
| JOHN BURWELL CRAMNER . . . . . | Wilmington, N. C. |
| J. F. JARMAN . . . . .         | Wilmington, N. C. |
| CLARENCE HOUSTON . . . . .     | Monroe, N. C.     |

It was moved and seconded that the Secretary cast the vote of the Association for the applicants, which was carried.

THE SECRETARY. I have a letter received since our morning session from Mr. Frank Hancock, which I will read:

BALTIMORE, MD., July 18, 1900.

Mr. P. W. Vaughan, Secretary North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association:

MY DEAR SIR:—For the first and only time since the organization of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association in 1880, I am absent, which I regret very much, but am compelled to be absent on account of the sickness of my wife, whom I have here at the hospital. I sincerely hope you have a large attendance and will have a pleasant and profitable meeting. It is useless for me to say to the members present who know my record so well, of the deep interest I still take in the success of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association. Wishing you all a delightful and successful meeting, and hoping to meet you all at the next meeting,

I am your friend,

F. W. HANCOCK.

THE PRESIDENT. We are sorry Mr. Hancock is not with us.

The installation of officers followed under the escort of Messrs. Bobbitt, Hunter and Pilkington.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned to meet in Winston, Wednesday of the third week in June, 1901.

P. W. VAUGHAN,
Secretary.

On Wednesday the Wilmington Drug Association tendered the Association a complimentary trip on the steamer City of Wilmington, down the Cape Fear river to the pier and return; many historic places and handsome summer homes were passed on the trip down, the rice fields on the banks of the river laden with their rich harvest seemed to wave us a glad and happy time; all on board enjoyed every minute of the time and returned to the city much refreshed by the cooling breezes. The Wilmington druggists were not satisfied with this so the next day they put us on board the Seacoast Railroad and carried us down to Wrightsville beach where the visitors had an opportunity of taking a dip in old Ocean.

At night the resident druggists tendered the visitors a splendid seaside banquet at the Seashore Hotel and the utmost good feeling prevailed; after supper those who desired tripped the "light fantastic" and were loath to leave when the band struck up Home Sweet Home. All voted the Wilmington Drug Association the prince of entertainers.

THE CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS.

CONSTITUTION.

---

ARTICLE I.—NAME.

This Association shall be called the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association.

ARTICLE II.—OBJECT.

The aim of this Association shall be to unite the reputable pharmacists and druggists of this State for mutual assistance, encouragement and improvement, and to advance the science and art of pharmacy, and thereby restrict the dispensing and sale of medicine to properly qualified pharmacists and druggists

ARTICLE III.—OFFICERS.

The Association shall have the following officers: A President, three Vice-Presidents, a Secretary, a Local Secretary, and a Treasurer; also an Executive Committee, consisting of five members, of which the Secretary shall be one ex officio, all of whom shall be elected annually by ballot, and shall hold office until an election of successors.

ARTICLE IV.—LIFE MEMBERSHIP.

Any member who shall pay the Treasurer the sum of twenty-five dollars at one time shall become a life member, and shall be exempt from all future annual dues.

ARTICLE V.—AMENDING CONSTITUTION.

Every proposition to alter or amend this Constitution shall be submitted in writing and received at an annual meeting, and may be voted for at the next annual meeting, when, upon receiving a vote of three fourths of the members present, it shall become a part of the Constitution.

The By-Laws may be altered or amended by a vote of three-fourths of the members present taken thereon.

BY-LAWS.*ARTICLE I.—DUTIES OF OFFICERS.

SECTION 1. The President shall preside at all meetings and administer the rules of order usual in deliberate assemblies. He shall nominate all special committees, except a majority of the members present resort to balloting or other means. He shall sign the certificates of membership and countersign all orders upon the Treasurer. He shall present at each annual meeting a report of the operations of the Association during the year, and suggest such subjects for its benefit as he may deem worthy of notice.

SEC. 2. The Vice-Presidents shall, in case of temporary absence or inability of the President to serve, perform his duties in the order of their names.

SEC 3 The Secretary shall keep a fair and correct record of all the proceedings of the Association. He shall keep on file all papers and reports read. He shall be charged with all correspondence, and with the editing, publishing and distributing the proceedings of the Association, under the direction of the Executive Committee. He shall notify all members four weeks in advance of each annual meeting, and at each annual meeting render a report of the duties performed by him since the last annual meeting. He shall furnish the chairman of every special committee with a list of its members. He shall be ex officio a member of the Executive Committee.

SEC. 4. The Local Secretary shall act under instructions from the Secretary.

SEC 5. The Treasurer shall collect and have charge of all funds of the Association. He shall give bond in the sum of one thousand dollars for the faithful performance of his duties. The bond must be acceptable to the Executive Committee and placed in the custody of the President, who shall deliver it to his successor. He shall hold and issue the certificates of membership. He shall report to the Executive Committee, previous to each annual meeting, the names of those members who have failed to pay their dues for two successive years. He shall keep a list of the names, residence and date of entrance of each member, and furnish a list of the same at the close of each annual meeting to the Secretary for publication. He shall preserve all applications for membership. He shall pay all bills when countersigned by the President, and at each annual meeting render an itemized statement of his accounts.

ARTICLE II.—OF COMMITTEES.

SECTION 1. There shall be three standing committees: An Executive Committee of five members, a Committee on Papers and Queries, and a Committee on Trade Interests, each to consist of three members, and to be annually elected or appointed, according to the will of the Association.

SEC. 1. The Executive Committee, of which the Secretary is an ex officio member, shall have charge of the revision of the roll, the investigation of applicants for membership, and the publication of the proceedings. They shall report at each annual meeting the names of such members who have refused to pay their annual dues for two successive years. They shall present appropriate notices of deceased members. At least one copy of the Annual Report of Proceedings, as published by the Executive Committee, shall be furnished each member.

SEC. 3 The Committee on Trade Interests shall consider all matters of a trade or commercial nature referred to them, and render a report thereon at such time as may be directed. They may make annual reports and suggest remedies of such trade or commercial irregularities as they may deem worthy thereof.

SEC. 4. The Committee on Papers and Queries shall receive all papers or essays for the Association, and designate which of them shall be read at length and which by title. They shall, in connection with the Secretary, arrange the time which may be most appropriate and convenient for presenting them. They shall annually report, within three months after their selection, a proper number of questions of scientific and practical interest, the answers to which may advance the interests of pharmacy; and shall procure the acceptance of as many such questions for investigation and reply as may be practicable; and in other ways induce the presentation of papers and essays.

ARTICLE III.—OF MEMBERSHIP.

SECTION 1. Every pharmacist and druggist residing in the State, of good moral standing, who is registered or is eligible to registration as a Registered Pharmacist under the Pharmacy Act of this State, of which satisfactory evidence shall be produced or shown to the Executive Committee, may become a member of this Association.

SEC. 2. Any person eligible to membership may apply in writing with the endorsement of two members in good standing, to any member of the Executive Committee, who shall report his application to said Committee; if, after investigating his claims, they shall approve his election, they shall, at the earliest time possible, report his name to the Association, and he may be elected by two-thirds vote of the members present on ballot.

SEC. 3. Any member, not in arrears, moving to another State and once in two years reporting to the Secretary his address, shall be regarded as an associate of this Association, and it is hereby provided that such failure to report shall be sufficient warrant for the Secretary dropping the name of such associate member from the roll of membership. Associate members shall not be eligible to hold office nor be required to contribute to the funds of the Association, but they shall have the privilege of attending the meetings and participating in the deliberations.

SEC. 4. No person shall be considered a member of this Association until he has signed the Constitution and By-Laws and paid into the treasury the sum of three dollars as an initiation fee; also the annual contribution for the current year. All persons who become members shall be considered permanent members, but may be expelled for improper conduct by a vote of three-fourths of the members present at any annual meeting.

SEC. 5. Every member shall pay in advance, into the hands of the Treasurer, the sum of two dollars as his yearly contribution. Any one in arrears at an annual meeting shall not be entitled to vote, and any one neglecting to pay his annual dues for two successive years shall be liable to lose his membership. Members complying with the preceding section of this Article are entitled to certificates of membership, signed by the President, a Vice-President, the Secretary and Treasurer. Ex members, who are so from omissions to pay their dues, desiring to reunite with the Association, may do so by applying in writing to the Treasurer and paying into the funds of the Association the sum of two years' dues when they were members and the dues for the current year; whereupon their names shall be replaced upon the roll.

SEC. 6. Resignations shall be made in writing to the Secretary, but no resignation shall be accepted from any one who is in arrears to the Treasurer. All resignations shall be acknowledged by the Secretary and reported at the next annual meeting.

SEC. 7. Pharmacists, chemists and other scientific men who may be deemed worthy of the distinction may be elected honorary members. They shall not be required to contribute to the funds, nor shall they be eligible to office, or to vote upon any question.

ARTICLE IV.—OF MEETINGS.

SECTION 1. The meetings shall be held annually, or from time to time, as the Association may determine, provided that in cases of failure of this from any cause, the duty of calling the Association together shall devolve upon the President, or on the Vice Presidents, with the advice and consent of the Executive Committee.

SEC. 2. At the opening of each annual meeting, in the absence of the President or Vice-President, one of the Executive Committee shall take the chair. In absence of all, a President pro tempore shall be elected by the members present. In the absence of the Secretary the presiding officer shall appoint a Secretary pro tempore.

SEC. 3. Fifteen members shall constitute a quorum.

ARTICLE V.—OF DELEGATES.

SECTION I. The President shall annually appoint five delegates to the American Pharmaceutical Association, and three to the Virginia Pharmaceutical Association, and three to the North Carolina State Medical Society. The delegates shall present their report at the next annual meeting of the Association. Delegates shall be entitled to appoint alternates.

ARTICLE VI.—BUSINESS ORDER.

- 1—Calling Roll.
- 2—Reading Minutes.
- 3—Election of Members.
- 4—Reports of Officers.
- 5—Miscellaneous Business.
- 6—Reading Communications.
- 7—Reports of Committees.
- 8—Election of Officers.
- 9—Adjournment.

CODE OF ETHICS.

ADOPTED 1882.

The members of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association, considering it necessary that some mutual understanding should exist in regard to the moral principles guiding them in their profession, hereby agree upon the following Code of Ethics:

1. We accept the United States Pharmacopœia as our standard and guide for all official preparations, and recognize a variance from its rules only in exceptional cases where sufficient authority has proved some other process more reliable to attain the same end. (This section is not intended to interfere with the dispensing of preparations or medicines ordered in accordance with foreign pharmacopœias )
2. We discountenance all secret formulæ between physician and pharmacist, and consider it our duty to communicate such to each other when requested.
3. We distinctly repudiate the practice of allowing physicians a percentage in any form on their prescriptions or patronage, as being derogatory to both professions.
4. We will endeavor, as far as possible, to refrain from compromising the professional reputation of any physician, and expect, in return, the same courtesy from him.
5. As the apothecary should be able to distinguish between good and bad drugs, in most cases, and as the substitution of a weak or inert drug for an active one may, negatively, be productive of serious consequences, we hold that the sale of impure drugs or medicines, from motives of competition or desire of gain, when pure articles of the same kind may be obtained, is highly culpable, and that it is the duty of every honest apothecary or druggist to expose all such fraudulent acts as may come to his knowledge.
6. The apothecary should be remunerated by the public for his knowledge and skill and his charges should be regulated by the time consumed in preparing as well as by the value of the articles sold. Although local and other circumstances necessarily affect the rate of charges at different establishments, no apothecary should intentionally undersell his neighbors with a view to their injury.
7. Recognizing the value of alcohol as a therapeutic agent, and the property of its being dispensed as such by pharmacists, yet deploring the widespread evil resulting from its intemperate use in its hundred insidious forms, we condemn any attempt to make it a prominent feature of our business as unprofessional, and we denounce the loose practice of allowing it to be used on the premises in any shape as a beverage as degrading, and we urge upon pharmacists the duty of exercising at all times a conscientious care in dispensing a drug liable to such dangerous abuse.

8. Members of this Association, when asked to do so, shall give each other confidentially, any information in their possession affecting the character, habits, integrity or irregularities of any assistant or apprentice who may have applied for employment, or to whom they may have given letters of introduction or recommendation. Any member who shall divulge such confidential communication to the detriment or annoyance of the member giving it shall, upon the proof thereof, be no longer entitled to the courtesies due a member, and his name be stricken from the roll

9. Believing that some means should be adopted to enforce the provisions of this Code, violations of the same may be reported at any annual meeting of this Association, when the accused may be heard in his own defense, when, if found guilty, he may be censured, suspended or expelled by a vote of two-thirds of the members present.

Acts 1897.
Acts 1891.

This Association shall elect ten of its members, from whom the Governor selects five, who shall compose the Board of Pharmacy. The Board is empowered to transact all business relating to the legal practice of pharmacy; to examine into and adjudicate upon all cases of abuse, fraud, adulteration, substitution or malpractice, and to enforce all the provisions of the law, and to render an annual account to the proper State authorities and to the Association. Any one examined by the Board shall pay a fee of five dollars. In case of failure to pass a satisfactory examination, he shall be granted a second examination without the payment of a further fee. It shall be the duty of the members of the Board, after receipt of notification of their appointment, to appear before the Clerk of the Superior Court of the county in which they individually reside, and make and subscribe to an oath properly and faithfully to discharge the duties of their office, and within thirty days thereafter meet and organize, by the election of a President and Secretary and Treasurer of said Board. The Secretary and Treasurer shall be elected to serve for the term of five years, and the term of other members shall be determined by lot. The Board shall hold meetings at least once annually, or oftener, as the business of the Board may require. The Secretary shall give each member of the Board not less than ten days' notice of each meeting. Three members shall constitute a quorum. It shall be the duty of the Board to examine all persons applying for examination in proper form, and to license such as shall establish their rights to be licensed. The Secretary and Treasurer of said Board shall be a bonded officer, held in bond of one thousand dollars, to be made [payable] to the said North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association and approve by the Executive Committee of said Association.

| Section 3142.                                     | Every person shall be held responsible for the quality of all drugs, chemicals and medicines he may sell or dispense, with the exception of those sold in the original packages of the manufacturers, and also those known as "patent medicines;" and should he intentionally adulterate or cause to be adulterated, or expose to sale knowing the same to be adulterated, such drugs, chemicals or medical preparations, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred dollars, and in addition thereto his name shall be stricken from the book of licentiates. Every licensed pharmacist, who desires to continue the practice of his profession, shall annually thereafter, within thirty days preceeding the annual meeting of the Board of Pharmacy, pay to the Secretary of said Board a license fee of one dollar, for which he shall receive a renewal of said license. "Every licentiate in pharmacy" shall display in some conspicuous place in his store or place of business, his license, which shall be prima facie evidence of his having been licensed by the Board of Pharmacy, and any licensed pharmacist failing to renew and display his license as required by this section, and continuing in the exercise of his profession, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. |

Acts 1897.

Misdemeanor to permit compounding of medicines by unlicensed person any person not licensed who shall keep open shop for the retailing or dispensing of medicines or poisons, or who shall fraudulently represent himself to be licensed; or any licensed pharmacist or any dealer in medicines who shall fail to comply with this chapter in relation to retailing and dispensing of poisons, shall for every such offence be guilty of a misdemeanor, and liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty-five dollars.

Penalty.

Section 3146.
Board of pharmacy; how appointed.

The Governor shall appoint five reputable and practicing pharmacists, doing business within the State, from ten of said pharmacists recommended to him by the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association. Said pharmacists so appointed shall constitute the Board of Pharmacy of the State of North Carolina, and shall hold office for the term of one, two, three, four or five years respectively, as herein provided, and until their successors have been duly elected and qualified. The North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association shall annually thereafter elect a pharmacist from their number to fill the vacancy annually occurring in said Board. Said pharmacist so elected shall be commissioned by the Governor, and hold office for the term of five years, and until his successor has been duly elected and qualified. In case of death, resignation or removal from the State of any member of said Board of Pharmacy, the said Board shall elect in his place a pharmacist, who is a member of said Association, to serve as a member of the Board for the remainder of the term.

Acts 1891.
Board of pharmacy; how elected.

Section 3147.
Penalties; how recovered.

The penalties prescribed in this chapter shall be recoverable by suit, in the name of the people of the State, to be prosecuted by the proper officers of the counties respectively, where the violations of this chapter may be committed, and it shall be the duty of the sheriffs to see that this chapter is enforced. Practicing physicians in towns of less than five hundred inhabitants may be registered without examination.

Acts 1897.
Acts 1891.

Acts 1885.
Exemption from jury duty

Section 1723 of The Code, as amended by chapter 239, Acts of 1885, exempts all licensed druggists from jury duty.
